Introduction

This immersive training day builds awareness of fire safety procedures, emergency response behaviours, and legal compliance under the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005. Designed for all roles, it fosters practical understanding of evacuation, hazard recognition and incident readiness.

Aims & Objectives

- To strengthen participants' understanding of fire safety risks and responsibilities
- To promote effective response behaviours during fire emergencies
- To ensure alignment with fire safety legislation and workplace procedures.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this session candidates should be able to:

- Identify key fire hazards in the workplace and recognise risk factors
- Understand the principles of fire prevention, control measures and safe evacuation
- Interpret human behavioural responses during emergencies to support calm and effective action
- Learn roles and responsibilities under fire legislation, including coordination duties
- Practice procedural elements of fire drills and emergency planning.
